

The Receiver has learned that unidentified individuals allegedly acting for or in connection with the Receivership Entities, including individuals apparently located overseas, have contacted consumers in an effort to solicit changes in billing arrangements, to encourage consumers to join new Slack or other internet discussion groups, and to recruit consumers to join purported class actions or similar lawsuits against the Receivership Entities. The Receiver has reviewed many of these solicitations, and believes them to be false or misleading, and to violate the terms of the order pursuant to which he was appointed. The Receiver encourages consumers in receipt of such solicitations to scrutinize their legitimacy carefully and to proceed with caution if responding to any communications from unknown individuals, or individuals claiming to be acting for or in concert with the Receivership Entities or their customers.
